

	Announcement	Document No.	ART-MR-010
	Re: Environmental Responsibility	Revision No.	01
	Policy	Effective Date	January 31, 2025

Art Event Co., Ltd. operates a jewelry manufacturing business based on management that is aware of environmental responsibility and gives importance to global climate change resulting from various activities. The company has therefore established this policy to control, protect and reduce environmental impacts in all its activities, including protection, prevention, mitigation, and adaptation to impacts that may be caused by climate change, as follows:

1. Exercise control, safeguard, and minimize environmental impacts through the sustainable utilization of resources, the conservation of energy, and the reduction of resource consumption stemming from various activities and work processes. This approach emphasizes the prevention of contamination at its source, as well as the mitigation and adaptation necessary to address the effects of climate change.
2. Adhere to applicable laws, regulations, requirements, policies, and practices, in addition to standards pertaining to environmental management and climate change mitigation.
3. It is advisable to contemplate the cessation of chemical usage or to explore alternative raw materials. This should also encompass an evaluation of work processes to minimize chemical consumption and mitigate environmental impact.
4. Develop a comprehensive business continuity plan to address potential natural disasters, thereby ensuring the uninterrupted operation of business activities while minimizing adverse effects.
5. Consistently update and evaluate objectives and operational strategies, while analyzing and assessing risks to enhance environmental management, as well as to formulate mitigation and response measures pertaining to climate change.
6. Encourage and facilitate all units to acquire adequate and suitable resources essential for the development of personnel and the establishment of various infrastructures necessary for the effective management of operations and the execution of activities pertaining to environmental management, energy conservation, and climate change mitigation.
7. It is imperative to inform the company's personnel about the importance of fostering awareness and encouraging active participation in initiatives aimed at mitigating environmental impacts, conserving energy, reducing greenhouse gas emissions, and cultivating an appreciation for the sustainable use of natural resources.
