

	Announcement Re: Product Disclosure Policy	Document No.	ART-MR-005
		Revision No.	00
		Effective Date	September 10, 2024

Art Event Company Limited realizes that business operations must be based on honesty, without deception, and providing true information to customers and stakeholders. Therefore, this product disclosure policy has been created to enable customers and stakeholders to understand and be informed of the physical characteristics or properties of the product.

The Company will disclose information about the physical characteristics or properties of the product in accordance with relevant laws and internationally accepted standards as follows:

1. Gold / Silver / and Platinum group metals. (PGM)

The Company will disclose correct product information and/or have a clear description that states that it is gold, silver, and platinum metals. Other words will not be used to mislead customers or stakeholders. If abbreviations or quality marks are used, they must be in accordance with industry standards or legislation.

2. Plating

If gold, silver and platinum group metals are used as plating materials, the Company will disclose correct product information and/or have a clear explanation of the percentage of thickness and specify the type of plating as gold, silver or platinum group metals only. No other words will be used to mislead customers or stakeholders. If abbreviations or quality marks are used, they must be in accordance with industry standards or legislation.

3. Treatments

For treated or heated diamonds and colored gemstones, the product information or description must state only the word "Treatments". Do not use other terms that may mislead customers or stakeholders.

4. Synthetics

If a product is a synthetic diamond or synthetic gemstone, whether in part or in whole, the product disclosure or description must include only the words "laboratory created," "laboratory grown," and/or "Synthetic." Do not use other terms that may mislead customers or stakeholders.

5. Simulants or imitation

If the product is a diamond or colored gemstone imitation material that does not have the chemical composition, physical properties and/or structure of a diamond or colored gemstone, the product disclosure or description must include the words "simulants", "imitation" and the name of the material that is part of the product, e.g. "x compound", "glass", "plastic".

6. Composites and reconstructed stones

The Company shall disclose accurate product information and/or provide a clear description of the materials and quantities used in the mixing or assembly of newly created diamonds or colored gemstones.

7. Descriptions of polished diamonds and colored gemstones

The Company shall disclose accurate product information and/or provide a description of the quality of diamonds and colored gemstones (weight, color, clarity, cut). If a description is not available, the Company shall comply with the rules of the International Diamond Council for diamonds and the CIBJO Gemstone Book for colored gemstones or other guidelines accepted by customers or stakeholders.

8. Place of origin for colored gemstones

If references are required, the Company will disclose the information in the form of a description related to the condition or geographic area where the colored gemstone was discovered.

9. Undisclosed synthetic diamonds

If the Company's products contain synthetic diamonds, to avoid trading in undisclosed synthetic diamonds, the Company has the following measures:

- The distributor shall issue a warranty letter to the Company.
- Establishing effective procedures, training, and tracking systems to prevent undisclosed synthetic diamonds from being converted to natural diamonds.
- Conducting thorough due diligence to identify and mitigate risks associated with undisclosed synthetic diamonds.
- Test polished diamonds with effective detection tools

This announcement is hereby issued for your information and collective compliance.
